    I[1]
||: Land of the fair chance, _ lucky angel in the blue sky.
: | | (3x)
            vi ii
Land of the fair chance, _ where the clouds fulfill the cheerdance.
VERSE 1
                        ii V^7
Born in the land of the free and the home of the brave
"choice",
                       ii
                                                     IV
not everyone gets fair chance, when they step into wild life.
                           ii
Picking the fruit from the tree, grant them, the small Ι
                                                (short)
ones, a ladder!
VERSE 2
                         ii V^7
What is a fair chance in life? Few are chosen, tells IV I Matthew.
                         ii
Many are called for fair chance, but the gate is quite IV I narrow.
                           ii
                                 IV
Picking the fruit from the tree, grant them, the small Ι
                                                (short)
ones, a ladder!
