i[1]          VII          VI          V
Sail, sail away, sail away, sail away!

i              VII              VI              V
Breathe life into dreams, sail away, sail away!

i[1] VII
The old caring lighthouseman will guide you through the night,
VI V
while a high wind blows and pushes sails for you.
i VII
Million points of light shine, are curators in the sky,
VI V
while black darkness covers daylight and red roses are fast
i asleep.

i[1] VII
Yellow angels twinkle as you sail along at night.
VI V
Close your eyes and regard flapping sails as wings.
i VII
Feel the sense of freedom and the loose wind in your hair.
VI V Challenge and adventures set you free at night (at night) in i
your dreams.

OUTRO

i[1] VII VI
Sail! Sail away! Set the sails!
 V I
Have the nightbreeze fill your dreams.
